PRESS RELEASE

Qamile Shabani becomes AMR's Operations Supervisor

01.06.2025
Düsseldorf

AMR welcomes Qamile Shabani into her new role: After working as an interviewer for two years, she now takes on the position of Operations Supervisor, where she is responsible for coordinating fieldwork operations, managing communication with project teams and clients as well as satisfying quality assurance across ongoing studies.

Holding a Master's degree in English Language Education, Qamile is a strong bilingual speaker of Albanian and English. Her academic and pedagogical backgrounds provide a solid foundation in communication, organizational skills, and the ability to navigate diverse personalities.

Qamile Shabani worked as an interviewer at AMR for over two years, gaining hands-on experience with the practical challenges and needs encountered during fieldwork. Both her fieldwork experience and her pedagogical background are valuable assets she brings to her new position, where she supports key operational processes and serves as an important link between internal teams and external stakeholders.

With her structured approach, reliability, and strong interpersonal competencies, Qamile brings valuable expertise to our daily operations. We look forward to a successful collaboration and to the contributions she will make as she develops in her new role.

> »I'm looking forward to growing as a leader, building stronger relationships with the team and improving in a role that challenges me.«
> – Qamile Shabani (Operations Supervisor of AMR)

AMR Advanced Market Research GmbH

Poststraße 7
40213 Düsseldorf
Germany

+49 211 865 87-0
info@amr-research.com
amr-research.com

AMR Advanced Market Research GmbH has been analyzing markets and society since 1981, specializing in telephone surveys (CATI) for B2C and B2B target groups. With its own CATI call center and a global network of 600 interviewers, AMR conducts studies in 106 countries and over 30